RECKON WITH CONSCIENCE.

Gompers Explains His Attitude as to Presidential Candidates.

Washington, July 22.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, made public tonight his statement to his organization of the treatment accorded labor's representatives by the two national conventions and appeals to union labor to support the party which has recognized the demands of labor.

The appeal will make its appearance in the current issue of the Federationist, the organ of the federation. The only threat made is that the workingman, who votes for the Republican ticket, will have "to reckon with his conscience and his fellow workmen." This threat follows a long denial that labor's chief promised to "deliver the labor Vote" to Mr. Bryan. After going into detailed explanation of the falsity of this charge and declaring that every man has a right to his political belief and should vote as his conscience dictates, Mr. Gompers says:

"While we do not wish in any way to interfere with each man's right to choose his own political affiliations, yet we say frankly that the worker who, in this campaign, supports the party or the candidate, who has contemptuously and boastfully announced hostility to labor's interests—well, he will have to reckon with his own conscience and with his fellow workmen."

STANDARD OIL GETS REVERSAL.

Big Fine Not to Be Paid Now Nor at All Probably.

Chicago, Ill., July 22.—Although the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today reversed and remanded the case of the government against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in which Judge Landis in the District Court imposed a fine of $29,240,000, the government forces will continue the legal battle.

The government has thirty days within which to file a petition for a rehearing, and it will be filed within the allotted time.

Following the decision of the United States Court of Appeals today reversing the decision of Judge Landis in the government suit against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, the Daily News says:

"Bankers who have close affiliations with the Standard Oil Company state that that organization will soon announce an increase in the capital stock of $100,000,000 by $500,000,000, making a total capital of $600,000,000."

"There will be added from the earnings of the fiscal year about $40,000,000 to the organization's surplus. It was given out that the large increase in capital is a diplomatic move in order that the dividend may not look so large."

DESPERATE AND FATAL FIGHT.

A Farmer Killed and Deputy Sheriff Wounded.

Oklahoma City, July 22.—In a desperate gun fight, a mile and a half west of Choctaw City, at 6 o'clock last evening, Dan Smith, a farmer, a resident of that town, whom officers were seeking to arrest, was shot and instantly killed, and Deputy Sheriff J. J. Lucas of Okla-ma, City, was shot through the knee. Mr. Lucas probably will lose his leg. Smith was wanted on a peace warrant, issued because he had threatened to kill his wife.

The body of Smith lay by the side of the railroad track on which he was killed, all night, guarded by Van Hook, his son, and a man named Rush. It will remain there until this morning, when county Attorney Reardon will go to the scene of the killing and conduct an inquest.

The killing of Smith culminates a stormy domestic career. Smith and his wife having quarreled intermittently since they were married, 18 years ago. Smith has been arrested many times as a result.

Summer Comfort

Talcum powders have almost entirely superseded the old-fashioned flesh powders made from rice flour and vegetable substances. The principal advantage of talcum over vegetable powders is that they are of mineral origin and cannot possibly dissolve, ferment or irritate the skin when moistened with perspiration.

OUR HELIOTROPE TALCUM

is the best flesh powder that can be used. It is finely powdered and contains antiseptics which make it very healing. Its use during hot weather will insure comfort and a feeling of cleanliness even if one perspires freely. For nursery use it is unsurpassed. Price 25¢.

GOOD WORK WAS DONE

Congressman Carter Faithfully and Efficiently Performed his Part of the Results.

The Oklahoma delegation succeeded in securing much legislation of local importance to the citizens of Oklahoma, both of a public and private nature during the first session of the Sixtieth Congress, but out of consideration of your time and patience, I will enumerate hereinbelow only such legislation as is of most general importance to the people of the Fourth Congressional District.

I do not arrogate to myself, alone, all responsibility for the passage of these measures, but simply claim, in an humble manner, to have devoted my entire time and attention to them, and I believe, without discredit to others, I can lay claim to as much credit for the accomplishment of a major portion of this legislation, especially the removal of restrictions, as any other man.

First. Removal of restrictions on the alienation, encumbrance and taxation of all lands owned by allottees of less than one-half Indian blood, including intermarried citizens and freedmen; on the surplus allotments of all Indians of one-half and less than three-quarters Indian blood, and directing the Secretary of the Interior to remove restrictions on all other Indians upon proper showing of competency, or when action will insure to the welfare of such Indian.

Second. Removing the cloud from titles to all allotted lands including inherited estates with full blood heirs.

Third. The limitation of the contest period.

Fourth. The payment of outstanding Choctaw and Chickasaw warrants.

Fifth. The furnishing of land records to each of the several counties.

Sixth. The delivery of tribal records, etc., to the Interior Department.

Seventh. The immediate sale of deferred patents in town sites heretofore appraised and paid for.

Ninth. The platting and sale of town lots on the segregated mineral land.

Tenth. The reappraisal of town lots in Hartshorne, Okla.

Eleventh. The sale of two acre tracts of public domain for school purposes.

Twelfth. $300,000 for the maintenance of schools in the Eastern Judicial District of Oklahoma.

Thirteenth. $15,000 for site for public building at McAlester, Okla.

Fourteenth. Closing the work of the Dawes Commission by July 1, 1909.

This only constitutes the more important of the beneficial laws secured for our state at the last session of Congress, and proves conclusively my contention of last summer, viz: "In order to get legislation advantageous to our people we must have Representatives on the floor of Congress."

We were unable, however, to get legislation on many local matters of supreme importance on which we hope to get action at the next session of Congress. Important among these are, the disposition of the segregated mineral and unallotted lands; a provision for public roads in the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations; improvement of the channel and banks of our rivers in order that no such disastrous destruction may come from floods as we have witnessed, and a final settlement of all tribal affairs.

I respectfully submit the above report for the careful examination and consideration of the people of the Fourth Congressional District.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

C. D. CARTER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, LIKE CLOCKS, SHOULD BE KEPT RUNNING.

A store's advertisements tell the people what is "doing" at that store—what is new, what is inviting, why today is a good time to visit the store. People look for the ads. to tell them these things just as naturally as they would look at a clock to tell the time.

Sometimes a clock does not run—sometimes a store's ad. does not run. A "rundown" clock or ad. are about equally unsatisfactory, unserviceable, misleading.

Curious thing about it is that a merchant who would think it absurd to have a "rundown" or out-of-repair clock will, sometimes, deliberately let his ad. stop running. It's not wise, nor "good business," nor defensible on any known grounds—but, it's sometimes done.

PRESS COMMENT.

There appears to be a move on foot to increase freight rates all over the country—the republican way of restoring prosperity, but the people pay the freight.—McAlester Capital.

The old saying that talk is cheap has been forever exploded. A rich widower in Missouri, in an unguarded moment, asked a mere woman to marry him, and then tried to back out like a crawfish. But the court mandated her a judgment for $10,000. That was a brief but expensive conversation.—Durant News.

THE VETERANS ENTERTAINED

The Confederate Reunion has closed, and it was successful. Those who visited us are unanimous in their praise. The last addresses of the occasion were strong and pleased all who had the good fortune of listening. The veterans enjoyed the reception tendered them at the club rooms last evening, and some of them the ball at the Harris block after the reception.

At the election of the officers at the business session, the Hon. D. J. Kendall of Sulphur was chosen commander over our good friend, Abe Crow, of Ada, a close second.

The veterans were welcomed in the city this season and they shall always be as long as there is a single one of them to come.

Confederate Veterans Entertained

The 25,000 Club and the Daughters of the Confederacy entertained the old veterans and some two hundred guests in a most royal manner in the spacious club parlors last evening from eight to nine.

The Ada band rendered some very choice selections after which a flag chorus of children, drilled by Miss Murray Lucas rendered the ever soul stirring melody of Dixie. Miss Thompson accompanied by Mrs. Torbett on the piano favored the guests with a vocal solo.

Hon. Chas. D. Carter made quite an interesting speech, which was thoroughly enjoyed by his hearers. Several of the old veterans responded and one of the ex-Confederates sang some of the old camp songs which awakened many reminiscences of the glorious past to the war-scarred veterans.

During the evening punch was served by the daughters and the veterans one and all declare it was one of the most enjoyable occasions of their lives and that the daughters are adepts in the art of entertaining.

Confederate Ball.

After the reception at the club rooms, the crowd repaired to the Harris building, where a large crowd had assembled to witness the grand march, led by the Confederate veterans. The Ada band furnished music for the dance. Some fifteen or twenty couples, including the visiting sons and daughters, tripped the light fantastic till a late hour. All who attended say it was a most delightful occasion.

Confederate veterans of Chickasaw Brigade assembled at auditorium Thursday morning, July 23rd, this being the last day of their reunion. The following resolution was introduced and unanimously carried:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Chickasaw Brigade, desire to express our thanks in addition to a former resolution to the commercial club for the royal reception given them at their hall and especially the interest manifested by the ladies in looking after our comfort. Also, we desire to thank the different newspapers of the city for their very prompt and courteous manner in which they have discharged their duty, in fact the entire city will ever be remembered by the old soldiers.

Respectfully,
D. J. KENDALL
For Comrades.

Be it further Resolved, That we tender Miss Murray Lucas our thanks for the part she took in training the children in songs rendered last night, it being rendered in such excellent manner, all who heard it complimenting the manner in which it was rendered very highly.

It is further Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the Ada Military band for their prompt and proficient manner in the part assigned them.

Also we would not forget to thank our worthy and beautiful sponsor and maid of honor for their part so promptly performed.

Respectfully,
COMMITTEE.

To the Trustees of School Districts:

On Saturday, the 8th of August, there will be a County convention of the school district trustees to meet in Ada at the court house for the purpose of studying the needs and conditions of the schools, purchasing supplies, hiring teachers, etc. We wish to form a permanent organization in order that the districts may unite in getting supplies to avoid the exorbitant retail prices. Let every trustee be on hand.

Respectfully,

Heat prostrates the nerves. In the summer one needs a tonic to offset the customary hot weather Nerve and Strength depression. You will feel better within 48 hours after beginning to take such a remedy as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Its prompt action in restoring the weakened nerves is surprising. Of course, you won't get entirely strong in a few days, but each day you can actually feel the improvement. That tired, lifeless, spiritless feeling will quickly depart when using the Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will sharpen a failing appetite; it aids digestion; it will strengthen the weakened Kidneys and Heart by simply rebuilding the worn-out nerves that these organs depend upon. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative monthly Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell.

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak kidney nerves. The kidneys, like the heart and the stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these failing nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone, it is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

YOU'RE TOO THIN.

Even Slight Catarrhal Derangements of the Stomach Produce Acid Fermentation of the Food.

It's Stomach Catarrh

Some people are thin and always remain thin, from temperamental reasons. Probably in such cases nothing can be done to change this personal peculiarity.

But there are a large number of people who get thin, or remain thin, who naturally would be plump and fleshy but for some digestive derangement.

Thin people lack in adipose tissue.

Adipose tissue is chiefly composed of fat.

Fat is derived from the oily constituents of food.

The fat-making foods are called by the physiologist, hydrocarbons. This class of foods are not digested in the stomach at all. They are digested in the duodenum, the division of the alimentary canal just below the stomach.

The digestion of fat is mainly, if not wholly, the work of the pancreatic juice. This juice is of alkaline reaction, and is rendered inert by the addition of acid. A hyperacidity of the digestive fluids of the stomach passing down into the duodenum, destroys the pancreatic fluid for digestive purposes. Therefore, the fats are not digested or emulsified, and the system is deprived of its due proportion of oily constituents. Hence, the patient grows thin.

The beginning of the trouble is a catarrhal condition of the stomach which causes hyperacidity of the gastric juices. This hyperacidity is caused by fermentation of food in the stomach. When the food is taken into the stomach, if the process of digestion does not begin immediately, acid fermentation will take place. This creates a hyperacidity of the stomach juices which in their turn prevent the pancreatic digestion of the oils, and the emaciation results.

A dose of Peruna before each meal hastens the stomach digestion. By hurrying digestion, Peruna prevents fermentation of the contents of the stomach, and the pancreatic juice is thus preserved in its normal state. It then only remains for the patient to eat a sufficient amount of fat-forming foods, and the thinness disappears and plumpness takes its place.

"Never, sir."

"Play juggler with the paper weights or talk nonsense through the telephone when your employer is absent?"

"No, sir."

"Ever go to the circus?"

"Never saw a circus in my life, sir."

"How about baseball? Do you take two or three afternoons a week to see the game?"

"Don't like baseball, sir."

The old broker bit the end off his cigar.

"My boy," he said, quietly, "this is the twenty-ninth story, isn't it?"

"I think so, sir."

"Well, it is not high enough for you."

"Not high enough for me, sir?"

Fighting Ruinous Iron Rust.

A bitter and disgusted wall has gone up from the farmers of the United States in regard to the miserable quality of the wire fence they are obliged to use. So writes Rene Bache in the Technical World Magazine. They can hardly get along without it, but it is most unsatisfactory by reason of the rapidity with which it is destroyed by rust. Of course, this means to them much trouble and expense, and they have been making a good deal of a row about the matter, even appealing to the government for help. In response to this agitation, the secretary of agriculture, Mr. James Wilson, some time ago, ordered a special investigation to be made, the task being handed over to Dr. Allerton S. Cushman. Since then the inquiry has been earnestly pushed, and many things have been learned which had not previously been suspected—especially in relation to the true cause of the rusting of iron and steel, which is very different from what has always been popularly supposed. The writer goes on to describe the methods adopted for improving the quality of wire and for guarding it against rust.

Great crowds follow Countess Szecseny about when she appears in Budapest, "rubbering" as one might say in America, at the richest woman in the world. The count affects to be sore, but, suggests the Chicago Daily News, maybe he is pleased to know that his countrymen appreciate his taste in beauty and dollars. We are apt to hear much about the vulgarity of Americans when they crowd round the entrance of a church in New York to get a glimpse at the performers when native money and a foreign title are being united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Budapest appears to be composed of about the same kind of people. It is a pretty safe bet that human nature is much the same the world over. The ordinary human being wants to see whatever is being talked about. If Countess Gladys will walk down the street to market every day and carry home a basket of eggs on her arm very soon no one will notice her except the man who wants to get her trade.

America has offended some of its profoundest European critics by its chronic optimism. What an American philosopher calls the religion of health-mindedness flourishes in this country more than in any other; our determined good cheer and faith in prosperity make the sad-eyed world shake its wise head. The same critics will no doubt find another example of our incorrigible shallowness in the National Prosperity Association, recently formed in St. Louis, and will make it motto, "Give us a rest and sunshine" hopelessly silly. But underneath this campaign of optimism, says the Youths' Companion, is some hard American business sense, and boards of trade and other business organizations all over the country have joined in an application of mind-cure to the financial depression.

A woman borrowed eggs of a neighbor when eggs were at 24 cents a dozen. She returned the eggs, the same number, when the price had fallen to 12 cents. The question is, has she paid her neighborly debt? This problem is said to be vexing a Kansas town, and the settlement of it involves a great principle. Shall the borrower of a cup of molasses, a tablespoonful of butter, a hod of coal return the loan in kind and quantity, or figure the equivalent in the market price? The satisfactory answer is that repayment should be made before the market has time to shift. But the controversy will not arise if there is no borrowing.

The first woman to practice law in this country was Margaret Brent. Lord Baltimore, then governor of Maryland, asked the legislature that she be appointed executor of her relatives' estate. One of the learned members said that it were better that the estate be lost than a woman appear to make an argument before them. Margaret Brent, however won her case. A few years after the civil war, when Mrs. Carrie B. Kilgore applied for admission to the law department of the University of Pennsylvania, she was told by the then dean that "when niggers and women are admitted to the law school he would resign."

Berlin college professor is asking for information from the rest of the world as to how long a dream lasts. Much depends on the length of the dream, something on the alarm clock and more on the fiendish tin-horn toots.

The farmers are not nearly so violent against the automobile as they used to be. Besides, as they are run over from time to time, there are not nearly so many of them.

LAPSES OF GREAT MINDS.

Details Frequently Known to Baffle the Man of Genius.

To illustrate the kind of lapse of reasoning power from which great inventors are known to suffer, like that under influence of which Sir Isaac Newton cut one hole in a wall to let a cat pass through and then a small hole for the kitten, an old story in the life of Morse will answer well. Long before he invented the telegraph Morse was known to the officers of the patent office as a persistent applicant for patents. When his great invention of "distance writing" was about completed he wanted the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to try it.

To get rid of him the president of the road turned him over to a subordinate. This official was struck with the beauty of the invention and became so interested in it that he sat up half the night discussing it with the inventor. At length Morse confessed there was only one thing which baffled him. "As long as the railroad runs," he said, "where poles may be erected it will be easy sailing, but when we come to the big bridges what is to be done then? We can't erect poles across the stream, and without them the wire would sag and perhaps break from its own weight. I confess I don't know what to do. Can you suggest a way out of the difficulty?"

"Why don't you fasten the wires to the bridge?" asked his companion without a moment's hesitation. For a moment Morse gazed at him with open mouth, and then exclaimed: "Why not, indeed? Why, I never thought of that. It's the very way."

Clean Watches with Bread.

Perhaps the most novel use to which bread is put may be seen in the great watch factories at Elgin, Ill., where more than 40 loaves of fresh bread are required each day. Superintendent George E. Hunter of the watch factory is quoted as saying:

"From the earliest time in the history of watchmaking it has been the custom of watchmakers to reduce fresh bread to the form of dough. This is done by steaming and kneading. They then use this dough for removing oil and chips that naturally adhere in course of manufacture to pieces as small as the parts of a watch. There are many parts of a watch, by the way, that are so small as to be barely visible to the naked eye. The oil is absorbed by this dough and the chips stick to it, and there is no other known substance which can be used as a wiper without leaving some of its particles attached to the thing wiped. This accounts for the continued use of bread dough in the watch making industry."—American Food Journal.

New Yorkers Pay Rent.

Fewer New Yorkers own their own homes than the residents of any other city in the world. The reason is a simple one; the land is so valuable that none but the very wealthy can afford its purchase. Of the 391,637 families living on Manhattan Island only 16,316 hold title to the houses they occupy—if you will bring that little pad and pencil into play again you will learn that 94 out of every 100 families make monthly payments to a landlord. When these families move, as they are constantly doing, it seems only necessary to take the family photographs from the mantel—so completely has their method of life been systematized. As for the landlords, they are mightier in wealth and tenants than any feudal lords of old—as forsooth the Astors, whose immense multitude of dwellings house a greater number of people than are contained in a city of the size of Hartford, Conn.; Seattle, Wash.; or Nashville, Tenn.—The "Giant City" New York, in National Magazine.

A Business That Pays.

Women are, as a rule, most successful in decorative work, and it is a matter for astonishment that comparatively few have so far gone in for this branch of money making.

There are numbers of girls with powers of discrimination who might pick up curios and antiques at a reasonable price, though, of course, even in the depths of the country, the supply has been steadily declining for years.

Not alone that, but cottage owners of old china and oak have become more wary, and articles of what Mrs. Malaprop termed "bigotry and virtue" are not to be bought up for a mere song.

Still, there is a good field for the woman collector. In furnishing and decorative work feminine ideas are hardly to be surpassed, and many a "house beautiful" owes its beauty to the artistic faculty of a woman.—Woman's Life.

Planted Birds.

Out in California small Tommy began his first ostrich farm. The word "farm" puzzled him for a while until he chanced to see some of the huge birds with their heads deep in the sand.

"Oh, auntie!" he exclaimed, suddenly. "Now I know why they call them ostrich farms."

"Why, Tommy?" asked his aunt. "Because they plant them in the ground. There's a lot of planted birds now."

Unaccounted For,

"You can't get something for nothing," remarked the aphorist. "And yet," answered the man who has bad dreams, "I am sure all those purple dragons and pink rhinoceroses got out of that Welsh rabbit were never put into it."

A MATTER OF COMPELSION.

No Soup, No Dinner, the Rule Laid Down by Barney.

Six years ago, when the king visited Dublin, some amusing incidents were recorded due to the grotesqueness of some hotel waiters apparently just fresh from rural life.

One hotelkeeper told such a newly imported "server" that he must always serve every one with soup at dinner and be quite certain that he had it.

Thereupon ensued the following scene between a visitor and the new waiter:

"Soup, sir?" said Barney.

"No soup for me," said the visitor.

"But you must have it," said Barney; "it's the rules of the house."

"Hang the house!" exclaimed the visitor, highly exasperated. "When I don't want soup I won't eat it. Get along with you!"

"Well," said Barney, with solemnity, "all I can say is just this—it's the rules of the house and sorra a drop else ye'll get till ye finish the soup!"—London Telegraph.

People Talk About Good Things.

Twelve years ago few people knew of such a preparation as a Powder for the Feet. To-day after the genuine merits of Allen's Foot-Ease have been told year after year by grateful persons, it is indispensable to millions. It is cleanly, wholesome, healing and antiseptic and gives rest and comfort to tired aching feet.

It cures while you walk. Over 30,000 testimonial. Limitations pay the dealer a larger profit otherwise you would never be offered a substitute for Allen's Foot-Ease, the original foot powder. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, and see that you get it.

Canada's Extensive Fisheries.

The fisheries of Canada are the most extensive of the world. The eastern sea coast of the maritime provinces from the Bay of Fundy to the Straits of Belle Isle covers a distance of 5,600 miles, more than double that of Great Britain and Ireland, and the salt water inshore area, not considering minor indentations nor the great lakes of the west, covers more than 1,500 square miles.

The extraordinary popularity of fine white goods this summer makes the choice of Starch a matter of great importance. Defiance Starch, being free from all injurious chemicals, is the only one which is safe to use on fine fabrics. Its great strength as a stiffener makes half the usual quantity of Starch necessary, with the result of perfect finish, equal to that when the goods were new.

Starch, like everything else, is being constantly improved, the patent

Starches put on the market 25 years ago are very different and inferior to those of the present day. In the latest discovery—Defiance Starch—all injurious chemicals are omitted, while the addition of another ingredient, invented by us, gives to the Starch a strength and smoothness never approached by other brands.

Thought It Was a Burglar.

"You are a coward!" said Mrs. Stubb, firmly.

"W-why do you say that, Maria?" asked Mr. Stubb, nervously.

"Why, you told me that you were not afraid of anything that walked in shoe leather, and I just saw you jump at the sound of a mouse."

"Well—er—Maria, mice don't wear shoe leather."

Peace for Once.

"I tell you, Judson is a slick chap," laughed Silas Ryetop. "He took his wife to Washington and kept her in the congressional library four hours."

RECKON WITH CONSCIENCE.

Gompers Explains His Attitude as to Presidential Candidates.

Washington, July 22.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, made public tonight his statement to his organization of the treatment accorded labor's representatives by the two national conventions and appeals to union labor to support the party which has recognized the demands of labor.

The appeal will make its appearance in the current issue of the Federationist, the organ of the federation. The only threat made is that the workingman, who votes for the Republican ticket, will have "to reckon with his conscience and his fellow workmen." This threat follows a long denial that labor's chief promised to "deliver the labor vote" to Mr. Bryan. After going into detailed explanation of the falsity of this charge and declaring that every man has a right to his political belief and should vote as his conscience dictates, Mr. Gompers says:

"While we do not wish in any way to interfere with each man's right to choose his own political affiliations, yet we say frankly that the worker who, in this campaign, supports the party or the candidate, who has contemptuously and boastfully announced hostility to labor's interests—well, he will have to reckon with his own conscience and with his fellow workmen."

STANDARD OIL GETS REVERSAL.

Big Fine Not to Be Paid Now Nor at All Probably.

Chicago, Ill., July 22.—Although the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today reversed and remanded the case of the government against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in which Judge Landis imposed a fine of $29,240,000, the government forces will continue the legal battle.

The government has thirty days within which to file a petition for a rehearing, and it will be filed within the allotted time.

Following the decision of the United States Court of Appeals today reversing the decision of Judge Landis in the government suit against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, the Daily News says:

"Bankers who have close affiliations with the Standard Oil Company state that that organization will soon announce an increase in the capital stock of $100,000,000 by $500,000,000, making a total capital of $600,000,000."

"There will be added from the earnings of the fiscal year about $40,000,000 to the organization's surplus. It was given out that the large increase in capital is a diplomatic move in order that the dividend may not look so large."

DESPERATE AND FATAL FIGHT.

A Farmer Killed and Deputy Sheriff Wounded.

Oklahoma City, July 22.—In a desperate gun fight, a mile and a half west of Choctaw City, at 6 o'clock last evening, Dan Smith, a farmer, a resident of that town, whom officers were seeking to arrest, was shot and instantly killed, and Deputy Sheriff J. J. Lucas of Okla-

GOOD WORK WAS DONE

Congressman Carter Faithfully and Efficiently Performed his Part of the Results.

The Oklahoma delegation succeeded in securing much legislation of local importance to the citizens of Oklahoma, both of a public and private nature during the first session of the Sixtieth Congress, but out of consideration of your time and patience, I will enumerate hereinbelow only such legislation as is of most general importance to the people of the Fourth Congressional District.

I do not arrogate to myself, alone, all responsibility for the passage of these measures, but simply claim, in an humble manner, to have devoted my entire time and attention to them, and I believe, without discredit to others, I can lay claim to as much credit for the accomplishment of a major portion of this legislation, especially the removal of restrictions, as any other man.

First. Removal of restrictions on the alienation, encumbrance and taxation of all lands owned by allottees of less than one-half Indian blood, including intermarried citizens and freedmen; on the surplus allotments of all Indians of one-half and less than three-quarters Indian blood, and directing the Secretary of the Interior to remove restrictions on all other Indians upon proper showing of competency, or when action will insure to the welfare of such Indian.

Second. Removing the cloud from titles to all allotted lands including inherited estates with full blood heirs.

Third. The limitation of the contest period.

Fourth. The payment of outstanding Choctaw and Chickasaw warrants.

Fifth. The furnishing of land records to each of the several counties.

Sixth. The delivery of tribal records, etc., to the Interior Department.

Seventh. The immediate sale of deferred patents in town sites hereafter appraised and paid for.

Ninth. The platting and sale of town lots on the segregated mineral land.

Tenth. The reappraisal of town lots in Harsborne, Okla.

Eleventh. The sale of two acre tracts of public domain for school purposes.

Twelfth. $300,000 for the maintenance of schools in the Eastern Judicial District of Oklahoma.

Thirteenth. $15,000 for site for public building at McAlester, Okla.

Fourteenth. Closing the work of the Dawes Commission by July 1, 1909.

This only constitutes the more important of the beneficial laws secured for our state at the last session of Congress, and proves conclusively my contention of last summer, viz: "In order to get legislation advantageous to our people we must have Representatives on the floor of Congress."

We were unable, however, to get legislation on many local matters of supreme importance on which we hope to get action at the next session of Congress. Important among these are, the disposition of the segregated mineral and unallotted lands; a provision for public roads in the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations; improvement of the channel and banks of our rivers in order that no such disastrous destruction may come from floods as we have witnessed, and a final settlement of all tribal affairs.

I respectfully submit the above report for the careful examination and consideration of the people of the Fourth Congressional District. Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

C. D. CARTER,

ADVERTISEMENTS, LIKE CLOCKS, SHOULD BE KEPT RUNNING.

A store's advertisements tell the people what is "doing" at that store—what is new, what is inviting, why today is a good time to visit the store. People look for the ads to tell them these things just as naturally as they would look at a clock to tell the time.

Sometimes a clock does not run—sometimes a store's ad. does not run. A "rundown" clock or ad. are about equally unsatisfactory, unserviceable, misleading.

Curious thing about it is that a merchant who would think it absurd to have a "rundown" or out-of-repair clock will, sometimes, deliberately let his ad. stop running. It's not wise, nor "good business," nor defensible on any known grounds—but it's sometimes done.

THE VETERANS ENTERTAINED

The Confederate Reunion has closed and it was successful. Those who visited us are unanimous in their praise. The last addresses of the occasion were strong and pleased all who had the good fortune of listening. The veterans enjoyed the reception tendered them at the club rooms last evening, and some of them the ball at the Harris block after the reception.

At the election of the officers at the business session, the Hon. D. J. Kendall of Sulphur was chosen commander over our good friend, Abe Crow, of Ada, a close second.

The veterans were welcomed in the city this season and they shall always be as long as there is a single one of them to come.

Confederate Veterans Entertained

The 25,000 Club and the Daughters of the Confederacy entertained the old veterans and some two hundred guests in a most royal manner in the spacious club parlors last evening from eight to nine.

The Ada band rendered some very choice selections after which a frag chorus of children, drilled by Miss Murray Lucas rendered the ever soul stirring melody of Dixie. Miss Thompson accompanied by Mrs. Torbett on the piano favored the guests with a vocal solo.

Hon. Chas. D. Carter made quite an interesting speech, which was thoroughly enjoyed by his hearers. Several of the old veterans responded and one of the ex-Confederates sang some of the old camp songs which awakened many reminiscences of the glorious past to the war-scared veterans.

During the evening punch was served by the daughters and the veterans one and all declare it was one of the most enjoyable occasions of their lives and that the daughters are adepts in the art of entertaining.

Confederate Ball.

After the reception at the club rooms, the crowd repaired to the Harris building, where a large crowd had assembled to witness the grand march, led by the Confederate veterans. The Ada band furnished music for the dance. Some fifteen or twenty couples, including the visiting sons and daughters, tripped the light fantastic till a late hour. All who attended say it was a most delightful occasion.

Confederate veterans of Chickasaw Brigade assembled at auditorium Thursday morning, July 23rd, this being the last day of their reunion. The following resolution was introduced and unanimously carried:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Chickasaw Brigade, desire to express our thanks in addition to a former resolution to the commercial club for the royal reception given them at their hall and especially the interest manifested by the ladies in looking after our guns in the campaign which will be formally opened in this state within the next 30 days. State Chairman Jackson has the assurance that Congressman Carter will fill a number of appointments. We're here again efforts will be made to bring Senator Gore and Owen into the state for a number of big city meetings Oklahoma will play a conspicuous part in the state campaign.

Prominent Minister Drowns.

Norman, Okla., July 22.—Citizens of Norman were thrown into deep sorrow when Marvin Holland brought the news that his uncle, John W. Holland, was drowned in Lake Norman, five miles south of the city. The two were in swimming and the younger Holland came out and drove around to the other side of the lake, and it was the intention of the older one to meet him on the other side. It is supposed he became exhausted. J. W. Holland was a brother of J. R. Holland, one of the most successful merchants in Oklahoma. For fifteen years he was a minister in the Southern Methodist church. His body had not been found up to 9 o'clock tonight. A party of seventy-five persons are searching. Deceased leaves a widow and several children.

Also we would not forget to thank our worthy and beautiful sponsor and maid of honor for their part so promptly performed.

Respectfully,
D. J. KENDALL
For Comrades.

Be it further Resolved, That we tender Miss Murray Lucas our thanks for the part she took in training the children in songs rendered last night, it being rendered in such excellent manner, all who heard it complimenting the manner in which it was rendered very highly.

It is further Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the Ada Mifferry band for their prompt and pro-ficent manner in the part assigned them.

Also we would not forget to thank our worthy and beautiful sponsor and maid of honor for their part so promptly performed.

To the Trustees of School Districts:

On Saturday, the 8th of August, there will be a County convention of the school district trustees to meet in Ada at the court house for the purpose of studying the needs and conditions of the schools, purchasing supplies, hiring teachers, etc. We wish to form a permanent organization in order that the districts may unite in getting supplies to avoid the exorbitant retail prices. Let every trustee be on hand.

Respectfully,
T. F. PIERCE
County Superintendent.

Heat prostrates the nerves. In the summer one needs a tonic to offset the customary hot weather Nerve and Strength depression. You will feel better within 48 hours after beginning to take such a remedy as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Its prompt action in restoring the weakened nerves is surprising. Of course, you won't get entirely strong in a few days, but each day you can actually feel the improvement. That tired, lifeless, spiritless feeling will quickly depart when using the Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will sharpen a failing appetite; it aids digestion; it will strength the weakened Kidneys and Heart by simply rebuilding the worn-out nerves that these organs depend upon. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak Kidney Nerves. Weak Kidneys like the Heart, and the Stomach, and their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that connect them and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these troubling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, it fails. It is a waste of time and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative mouth-tablets or liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell.

YOU'RE TOO THIN.

Even Slight Catarrah Derangements of the Stomach Produce Acid Fermentation of the Food.

Ada Evening News

It's Stomach Catarrah

Some people are thin and always remain thin, from temperamental reasons. Probably in such cases nothing can be done to change this personal peculiarity.

But there are a large number of people who get thin, or remain thin, who naturally would be plump and fleshy but for some digestive derangement.

Thin people lack in adipose tissue.

Adipose tissue is chiefly composed of fat.

Fat is derived from the oily constituents of food.

The fat-making foods are called by the physiologist, hydrocarbons. This class of foods are not digested in the stomach at all. They are digested in the duodenum, the division of the alimentary canal just below the stomach.

The digestion of fat is mainly, if not wholly, the work of the pancreatic juice. This juice is of alkaline reaction, and is rendered inert by the addition of acid. A hyperactivity of the digestive fluids of the stomach passing down into the duodenum, destroys the pancreatic fluid for digestive purposes. Therefore, the fats are not digested or emulsified, and the system is deprived of its due proportion of oily constituents. Hence, the patient grows thin.

The beginning of the trouble is a catarrah condition of the stomach which causes hyperacidity of the gastric juices. This hyperacidity is caused by fermentation of food in the stomach.

When the food is taken into the stomach, if the process of digestion does not begin immediately, acid fermentation will take place. This creates a hyperacidity of the stomach juices which in their turn prevent the pancreatic digestion of the oils, and the emaciation takes its place.

A dose of Peruna before each meal hastens the stomach digestion. By hurrying digestion, Peruna prevents fermentation of the contents of the stomach, and the pancreatic juice is thus preserved in its normal state. It then only remains for the patient to eat a sufficient amount of fat-forming foods, and the thinness disappears and plumpness takes its place.

Fighting Ruinous Iron Rust.

A bitter and disgusted wall has gone up from the farmers of the United States in regard to the miserable quality of the wire fence they are obliged to use. So writes Rene Baché in the Technical World Magazine. They can hardly get along without it, but it is most unsatisfactory by reason of the rapidity with which it is destroyed by rust. Of course, this means to them much trouble and expense, and they have been making a good deal of a row about the matter, even appealing to the government for help. In response to this agitation, the secretary of agriculture, Mr. James Wilson, some time ago, ordered a special investigation to be made, the task being handed over to Dr. Allerton S. Cushman. Since then the inquiry has been earnestly pushed, and many things have been learned which had not previously been suspected—especially in relation to the true cause of the rusting of iron and steel, which is very different from what has always been popularly supposed. The writer goes on to describe the methods adopted for improving the quality of wire and for guarding it against rust.

Great crowds follow Countess Szeghény about when she appears in Budapest, "rubbering," as one might say in America, at the richest woman in the world. The count affects to be sore, but, suggests the Chicago Daily News, maybe he is pleased to know that his countrymen appreciate his taste in beauty and dollars. We are apt to hear much about the vulgarity of Americans when they crowd round the entrance of a church in New York to get a glimpse at the performers when native money and a foreign title are being united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Budapest appears to be composed of about the same kind of people. It is a pretty safe bet that human nature is much the same the world over. The ordinary human being wants to see whatever is being talked about. If Countess Gladys will walk down the street to market every day and carry home a basket of eggs on her arm very soon no one will notice her except the man who wants to get her trade.

America has offended some of its profoundest European critics by its chronic optimism. What an American philosopher calls the religion of healthy-mindedness flourishes in this country more than in any other; our determined good cheer and faith in prosperity make the sad-eyed world shake its wise head. The same critics will no doubt find another example of our incorrigible shallowness in the National Prosperity Association, recently formed in St. Louis, and will think its motto, "Give us a rest and sunshine," hopelessly silly. But underneath this campaign of optimism, says the Youths' Companion, is some hard American business sense, and boards of trade and other business organizations all over the country have joined in an application of mind-cure to the financial depression.

A woman borrowed eggs of a neighbor when eggs were at 24 cents a dozen. She returned the eggs, the same number, when the price had fallen to 12 cents. The question is, has she paid her neighborly debt?

This problem is said to be vexing a Kansas town, and the settlement of it involves a great principle. Shall the borrower of a cup of molasses, a tablespoonful of butter, a hod of coal return the loan in kind and quantity, or figure the equivalent in the market price? The satisfactory answer is that repayment should be made before the market has time to shift. But the controversy will not arise if there is no borrowing.

The first woman to practice law in this country was Margaret Brent, Lord Baltimore, then governor of Maryland, asked the legislature that she be appointed executor of her relatives' estate. One of the learned members said that it were better that the estate be lost than a woman appear to make an argument before them. Margaret Brent, however won her case. A few years after the civil war, when Mrs. Carrie B. Kilgore applied for admission to the law department of the University of Pennsylvania, she was told by the then dean that "when niggers and women are admitted to the law school he would resign."

A Berlin college professor is asking for information from the rest of the world as to how long a dream lasts. Much depends on the length of the dream, something on the alarm clock and more on the floundish tin-horn toots.

The farmers are not nearly so violent against the automobile as they used to be. Besides, as they are run over from time to time, there are not nearly so many of them.

Unaccounted For, "You can't get something for nothing," remarked the aphorist.

"And yet," answered the man who has bad dreams, "I am sure all those purple dragons and pink rhinoceroses I got out of that Welsh rabbit were never put into it."

A MATTER OF COMPELCTION.

No Soup, No Dinner, the Rule Laid Down by Barney.

To illustrate the kind of lapses of reasoning power from which great inventors are known to suffer, like that under influence of which Sir Isaac Newton cut one hole in a wall to let a cat pass through and then a small hole for the kitten, an old story in the life of Morse will answer well. Long before he invented the telegraph Morse was known to the officers of the patent office as a persistent applicant for patents. When his great invention of "distance writing" was about completed he wanted the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to try it.

To get rid of him the president of the road turned him over to a subordinate. This official was struck with the beauty of the invention and became so interested in it that he sat up half the night discussing it with the inventor. At length Morse confessed there was only one thing which baffled him. "As long as the railroad runs," he said, "where poles may be erected it will be easy sailing, but when we come to the big bridges what is to be done then? We can't erect poles across the stream, and without them the wire would sag and perhaps break from its own weight. I confess I don't know what to do. Can you suggest a way out of the difficulty?"

"Why don't you fasten the wires to the bridge?" asked his companion without a moment's hesitation. For a moment Morse gazed at him with open mouth, and then exclaimed: "Why not, indeed? Why, I never thought of that. It's the very way."

Clean Watchers with Bread. Perhaps the most novel use to which bread is put may be seen in the great watch factories at Elgin, Ill., where more than 40 loaves of fresh bread are required each day. Superintendent George E. Hunter of the watch factory is quoted as saying:

"From the earliest time in the history of watchmaking it has been the custom of watchmakers to reduce fresh bread to the form of dough. This is done by steaming and kneading. They then use this dough for removing oil and chips that naturally adhere in course of manufacture to pieces as small as the parts of a watch. There are many parts of a watch, by the way, that are so small as to be barely visible to the naked eye. The oil is absorbed by this dough and the chips stick to it, and there is no other known substance which can be used as a wiper without leaving some of its particles attached to the thing wiped. This accounts for the continued use of bread dough in the watch making industry."—American Food Journal.

New Yorkers Pay Rent.

Fewer New Yorkers own their own homes than the residents of any other city in the world. The reason is a simple one; the land is so valuable that none but the very wealthy can afford its purchase. Of the 391,687 families living on Manhattan Island only 16,316 hold title to the houses they occupy—if you will bring that little pad and pencil into play again you will learn that 94 out of every 100 families make monthly payments to a landlord. When these families move, as they are constantly doing, it seems only necessary to take the family photographs from the mantel—so completely has their method of life been systematized. As for the landlords, they are mightier in wealth and tenants than any feudal lords of old—as forsight the Astors, whose immense multitude of dwellings house a greater number of people than are contained in a city of the size of Hartford, Conn.; Seattle, Wash.; or Nashville, Tenn.—The "Giant City" New York, in National Magazine.

A Business That Pays. Women are, as a rule, most successful in decorative work, and it is a matter for astonishment that comparatively few have so far gone in for this branch of money making.

There are numbers of girls with powers of discrimination who might pick up curios and antiques at a reasonable price, though, of course, even in the depths of the country, the supply has been steadily declining for years.

Not alone that, but cottage owners of old china and oak have become more wary, and articles of what Mrs. Malaprop termed "bigotry and virtue" are not to be bought up for a mere song.

Still, there is a good field for the woman collector. In furnishing and decorative work feminine ideas are hard to be surpassed, and many a "house beautiful" owes its beauty to the artistic faculty of a woman—Woman's Life.

Planted Birds. Out in California small Tommy held his first ostrich farm. The word "farm" puzzled him for a while until he chance to see some of the huge birds with their heads deep in the sand.

"Oh, auntie!" he exclaimed, suddenly, "Now I know why they call them ostrich farms."

"Why, Tommy?" asked his aunt.

"Because they plant them in the ground. There's a lot of planted birds now."

Unaccounted For, "You can't get something for nothing," remarked the aphorist.

"And yet," answered the man who has bad dreams, "I am sure all those purple dragons and pink rhinoceroses I got out of that Welsh rabbit were never put into it."

Six years ago, when the king visited Dublin, some amusing incidents were recorded due to the grotesqueness of some hotel waiters, apparently just fresh from rural life.

One hotelkeeper told such a newly imported "servant" that he must always serve every one with soup at dinner and be quite certain that he had it.

Thereupon ensued the following scene between a visitor and the new waiter:

"Soup, sir?" said Barney.

"No soup for me," said the visitor.

"But you must have it," said Barney: "It's the rule of the house."

"Hang the house!" exclaimed the visitor, highly exasperated. "When I don't want soup I won't eat it. Get along with you!"

"Well," said Barney, with solemnity, "all I can say is just this—it's the rule of the house and marrs a drop else we'll get till we finish the soup!"—London Telegraph.

Bedmaking.

Peddler—Where's your mother, little boy?

Boy—Upstairs making beds.

Peddler—Where's your father?

Boy—Out in the garden making beds.

Peddler—is your uncle in?

Boy—He's out in the barn bedding the cattle.

Peddler—What are you doing?

Boy—Well, if you believe what pa and ma say, I'm raising bedlam.

And the agent gave it up as a bad job.—Detroit Free Press.

For Twenty Years

Other chill remedies have sprung up, nourished for a brief season, then passed away—even from memory—but for twenty long years Cheatham's Chill Tonic has been in the field of action.

The reason is simple. It has merit. It actually cures Chills and Fevers while the majority of others merely promise to. One bottle guaranteed to cure any one case.

Innovation in Politics.

The recent municipal elections in Paris were remarkable not only for the candidature of M. Laloc, who was soundly beaten, but for the first recorded candidature of a domestic servant.

The liveried class is supposed to take on the political color of its surroundings and to be ultra-conservative as a rule, but this candidate stood as a republican socialist, and he is said to have been strongly supported by his kind.

Starch, like everything else, is becoming constantly improved, the patent starches put on the market 25 years ago are very different and inferior to those of the present day. In the latest discovery—Defiance Starch—all injurious chemicals are omitted, while the addition of another ingredient, invented by us, gives to the starch a strength and smoothness never approached by other brands.

Thought It Was a Burglar.

"You are a coward!" said Mrs. Stubb, firmly.

"Why do you say that, Maria?" asked Mr. Stubb, nervously.

"Why, you told me that you were not afraid of anything that walked in shoe leather, and I just saw you jump at the sound of a mouse."

"Well—er—Maria, mice don't wear shoe leather."

Best of All.

R. J. Mayher, No. 406 South Clark St., Chicago, writes as follows:

"I have kept and used your Hunt's Lightning Oil for the last ten years in my family. It is the only kind to have and the best of all."

It cures Cuts, Burns, Bruises, Sprains, Aches, Pains, Stings and Bites. It kills Chiggers, too.

Peace for Once.

"I tell you, Judson is a slick chap," laughed Silas Ryetop. "He took his wife to Washington and kept her in the congressional library four hours."

"What did he do that for?" asked Hiram Hardapple.

"Why, begosh, they fine you if you talk in that building, and for four hours she didn't speak a word."

"Mrs. Pinkham, of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company of Lyon, Mass., together with her son, Arthur W. Pinkham, and the younger members of her family, sailed for Naples on May 20th for a three months' tour throughout Europe and a much needed vacation."

RECKON WITH CONSCIENCE.

Gompers Explains His Attitude as to Presidential Candidates.

Washington, July 22—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor made public tonight his statement to his organization of the treatment accorded labor's representatives by the two national conventions and appeals to union labor to support the party which has recognized the demands of labor.

The appeal will make its appearance in the current issue of the Federationist, the organ of the federation. The only threat made is that the workingman, who votes for the Republican ticket, will have to reckon with his conscience and his fellow workmen. This threat follows a long denial that labor's chief promise to deliver the labor vote to Mr. Bryan. After going into detailed explanation of the falsity of this charge and declaring that every man has a right to his political belief and should vote as his conscience dictates, Mr. Gompers says:

While we do not wish in any way to interfere with each man's right to choose his own political affiliations yet we say frankly that the worker who, up this campaign supports the party or the candidate who has contemptuously and boastfully announced hostility to labor's interests—well he will have to reckon with his own conscience and with his fellow workmen."

STANDARD OIL GETS REVERSAL.

Big Fine Not to Be Paid Now Nor at All Probably.

Chicago, Ill., July 22—Although the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today reversed and remanded the case of the government against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in which Judge Landis in the District Court imposed a fine of $29,240,000, the government forces will continue the legal battle.

The government has thirty days within which to file a petition for a rehearing and it will be filed within the allotted time.

Following the decision of the United States Court of Appeals today reversing the decision of Judge Landis in the government suit against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Daily News says:

Bankers who have close affiliations with the Standard Oil Company state that that organization will soon announce an increase in the capital stock of $100,000,000 by $500,000,000 making a total capital of $600,000,000.

"There will be added from the earnings of the fiscal year about $40,000,000 to the organization's surplus. It was given out that the large increase in capital is a diplomatic move in order that the dividend may not look so large."

DESPERATE AND FATAL FIGHT.
A Farmer Killed and Deputy Sheriff Wounded.

Oklahoma City, July 22.—In a desperate gun fight a mile and a half west of Choctaw City, at 8 o'clock last evening Dan Smith a farmer, a resident of that town, whom officers were seeking to arrest, was shot and instantly killed, and Deputy Sheriff J. J. Lucas of Okla-

GOOD WORK WAS DONE

Congressman Carter Faithfully and Efficiently Performed his Part of the Results.

The Oklahoma delegation succeeded in securing much legislation of local importance to the citizens of Oklahoma both of a public and private nature during the first session of the Sixtieth Congress but out of consideration of your time and patience I will enumerate herebelow only such legislation as is of most general importance to the people of the Fourth Congressional District.

I do not arrogate to myself alone all responsibility for the passage of these measures but simply claim in a humble manner to have devoted my entire time and attention to them and I believe without discredit to others I can lay claim to as much credit for the accomplishment of a major portion of this legislation especially the removal of restrictions as any other man.

First Removal of restrictions on the alienation, encumbrance and taxation of all lands owned by allottees of less than one-half Indian blood including intermarried citizens and freedmen on the surplus allotments of all Indians of one half and less than three-quarters Indian blood and directing the Secretary of the Interior to remove restrictions on all other Indians upon proper showing of competence or when action will injure to the welfare of such Indian.

Second Removing the cloud from titles to all allotted lands including inherited estates with full blood heirs.

Third The limitation of the contest period.

Fourth The payment of outstanding Choctaw and Chickasaw warrants.

Fifth The furnishing of land records to each of the several counties.

Sixth The delivery of tribal records etc. to the Interior Department.

Seventh The immediate sale of deferred patents in town sites heretofore appraised and paid for.

Ninth The platting and sale of town lots on the segregated mineral land.

Tenth The reappraisal of town lots in Hartshorne, Okla.

Eleventh The sale of two acre tracts of public domain for school purposes.

Twelfth $300,000 for the maintenance of schools in the Eastern Judicial District of Oklahoma.

Thirteenth $15,000 for site for public building at McAlester, Okla.

Fourteenth Closing the work of the Dawes Commission by July 1, 1909.

This only constitutes the more important of the beneficial laws secured for our state at the last session of Congress and proves conclusively my contention of last summer viz. In order to get legislation advantageous to our people we must have Representatives on the floor of Congress.

We were unable however to get legislation on many local matters of supreme importance on which we hope to get action at the next session of Congress. Important among these are, the disposition of the segregated mineral and unallotted lands a provision for public roads in the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations improvement of the channel and banks of our rivers in order that no such disastrous destruction may come from floods as we have witnessed and a final settlement of all tribal affairs.

I respectfully submit the above report for the careful examination and consideration of the people of the Fourth Congressional District.

Very respectfully your obedient servant,

C. D. CARTER.

ADVERTISEMENTS, LIKE CLOCKS, SHOULD BE KEPT RUNNING.

A store's advertisements tell the people what is "doing" at that store—what is new, what is inviting, why today is a good time to visit the store. People look for the ads, to tell them these things just as naturally as they would look at a clock to tell the time.

Sometimes a clock does not run—sometimes a store's ad, does not run. A "rundown" clock or ad, are about equally unsatisfactory, unserviceable, misleading.

Curious thing about it is that a merchant who would think it absurd to have a "rundown" or out-of-repair clock will, sometimes, deliberately let his ad. stop running. It's not wise, nor "good business," nor defensible on any known grounds—but it's sometimes done.

THE VETERANS ENTERTAINED

The Confederate Reunion has closed, and it was successful. Those who visited us are unanimous in their praise. The last addresses of the occasion were strong and pleased all who had the good fortune of listening. The veterans enjoyed the reception tendered them at the club rooms last evening, and some of them the ball at the Harris block after the reception.

At the election of the officers at the business session, the Hon. D. J. Kendall of Sulphur was chosen commander over our good friend Abe Crow, of Ada, a close second.

The veterans were welcomed in the city this season and they shall always be as long as there is a single one of them to come.

Confederate Veterans Entertained
The 25,000 Club and the Daughters of the Confederacy entertained the old veterans and some two hundred guests in a most royal manner in the spacious club parlors last evening from eight to nine.

The Ada band rendered some very choice selections after which a gay chorus of children, drilled by Miss Murray Lucas, rendered the ever soul stirring melody of Dixie. Miss Thompson accompanied by Mrs. Torbett on the piano favored the guests with a vocal solo.

Hon. Chas. D. Carter made quite an interesting speech, which was thoroughly enjoyed by his hearers. Several of the old veterans responded and one of the ex-Confederates sang some of the old camp songs which awakened many reminiscences of the glorious past to the war-scared veterans.

During the evening punch was served by the daughters and the veterans one and all declare it was one of the most enjoyable occasions of their lives and that the daughters are adepts in the art of entertaining.

Confederate Ball.

After the reception at the club rooms, the crowd repaired to the Harris building, where a large crowd had assembled to witness the grand march, led by the Confederate veterans. The Ada band furnished music for the dance. Some fifteen or twenty couples, including the visiting sons and daughters, tripped the light fantastic till a late hour. All who attended say it was a most delightful occasion.

Confederate veterans of Chickasaw Brigade assembled at auditorium Thursday morning, July 23rd, this being the last day of their reunion, the following resolution was introduced and unanimously carried:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Chickasaw Brigade, desire to express our thanks in addition to a former resolution to the commercial club for the royal reception given them at their hall and especially the interest manifested by the ladies in looking after our comfort. Also, we desire to thank the different newspapers of the city for their very prompt and courteous manner in which they have discharged their duty. In fact the entire city will ever be remembered by the old soldiers.

Respectfully,
D. J. KENDALL
For Comrades.

Be it further Resolved, That we tender Miss Murray Lucas our thanks for the part she took in training the children in songs rendered last night, it being rendered in such excellent manner, all who heard it committing the manner in which it was rendered very highly.

It is further Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the Ada Military band for their prompt and proficient manner in the part assigned them.

Also we would not forget to thank our worthy and beautiful sponsor and maid of honor for their part so promptly performed.

Respectfully,
COMMITTEE.

Heat prostrates the nerves in the summer one needs a tonic to offset the customary hot weather Nerve and Strength depression. You will feel better within 48 hours after beginning to take such a remedy as Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

Restorative. Its prompt action in restoring the weakened nerves is surprising. Of course, you won't get entirely strong in a few days, but each day you can actually feel the improvement. That tired, lifeless, spiritless feeling will quickly depart when using the Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will sharpen a failing appetite; it aids digestion; it will strengthen the weakened Kidneys and Heart by simply rebuilding the worn-out nerves that these organs depend upon. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the stomach, and the liver, are the great glands and strengthen them, Dr. Shoop's Restorative prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, it is waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine goes dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other diseases, or any disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative mouth-tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Doctors recommend and sell.

YOU'RE TOO THIN.
Even Slight Catarrah Derangements of the Stomach Produce Acid Fermentation of the Food.

It's Stomach Catarrah

Some people are thin and always remain thin, from temperamental reasons. Probably in such cases nothing can be done to change this personal peculiarity.

But there are a large number of people who get thin, or remain thin, who naturally would be plump and fleshy but for some digestive derangement.

Thin people lack in adipose tissue.

Adipose tissue is chiefly composed of fat.

Fat is derived from the oily constituents of food.

The fat-making foods are called by the physiologist, hydrocarbons. This class of foods are not digested in the stomach at all. They are digested in the duodenum, the division of the alimentary canal just below the stomach.

The digestion of fat is mainly, if not wholly, the work of the pancreatic juice. This juice is of alkaline reaction, and is rendered inert by the addition of acid. A hyperacidity of the digestive fluids of the stomach passing down into the duodenum, destroys the pancreatic fluid for digestive purposes. Therefore, the fats are not digested or emulsified, and the system is deprived of its due proportion of oily constituents. Hence, the patient grows thin.

The beginning of the trouble is a catarrhal condition of the stomach which causes hyperacidity of the gastric juices. This hyperacidity is caused by fermentation of food in the stomach.

When the food is taken into the stomach, if the process of digestion does not begin immediately, acid fermentation will take place. This creates a hyperacidity of the stomach juices which in their turn prevent the pancreatic digestion of the oils, and the emasciation results.

A dose of Peruna before each meal hastens the stomach digestion. By hurrying digestion, Peruna prevents fermentation of the contents of the stomach, and the pancreatic juice is thus preserved in its normal state. It then only remains for the patient to eat a sufficient amount of fat-forming foods, and the thinness disappears and plumpness takes its place.

"Never, sir."

"Play Juggler with the paper weights or talk nonsense through the telephone when your employer is absent?"

"No, sir."

"Ever go to the circus?"

"Never saw a circus in my life, sir."

"How about baseball? Do you take two or three afternoons a week to see the game?"

"Don't like baseball, sir."

The old broker bit the end off his cigar.

"My boy," he said, quietly, "this is the twenty-ninth story, isn't it?"

"I think so, sir."

"Well, it is not high enough for you."

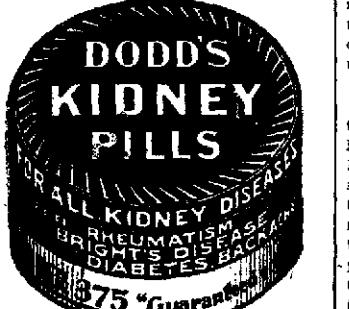

"Not high enough for me, sir?"

Fighting Ruinous Iron Rust.
A bitter and disgusted wall has gone up from the farmers of the United States in regard to the miserable quality of the wire fence they are obliged to use. So writes Rene Baché in the Technical World Magazine. They can hardly get along without it, but it is most unsatisfactory by reason of the rapidity with which it is destroyed by rust. Of course, this means to them much trouble and expense, and they have been making a good deal of a row about the matter, even appealing to the government for help. In response to this agitation, the secretary of agriculture, Mr. James Wilson, some time ago, ordered a special investigation to be made, the task being handed over to Dr. Allerton S. Cushman. Since then the inquiry has been earnestly pushed, and many things have been learned which had not previously been suspected—especially in relation to the true cause of the rusting of iron and steel, which is very different from what has always been popularly supposed. The writer goes on to describe the methods adopted for improving the quality of wire and for guarding it against rust.

Great crowds follow Countess Szegeny about when she appears in Budapest, "rubbering," as one might say in America, at the richest woman in the world. The count affects to be sore, but, suggests the Chicago Daily News, maybe he is pleased to know that his countrymen appreciate his taste in beauty and dollars. We are apt to hear much about the vulgarity of Americans when they crowd round the entrance of a church in New York to get a glimpse at the performers when native money and a foreign title are being united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Budapest appears to be composed of about the same kind of people. It is a pretty safe bet that human nature is much the same the world over. The ordinary human being wants to see whatever is being talked about. If Countess Gladys will walk down the street to market every day and carry home a basket of eggs on her arm very soon no one will notice her except the man who wants to get her trade.

Play Juggler with the paper weights or talk nonsense through the telephone when your employer is absent?"

America has offended some of its profoundest European critics by its chronic optimism. What an American philosopher calls the religion of health-mindedness flourishes in this country more than in any other; our determined good cheer and faith in prosperity make the sad-eyed world shake its wise head. The same critics will no doubt find another example of our incorrigible shallowness in the National Prosperity Association, recently formed in St. Louis, and will think its motto, "Give us a rest and sunshine," hopelessly silly. But underneath this campaign of optimism, says the Youths' Companion, is some hard American business sense, and boards of trade and other business organizations all over the country have joined in an application of mind-cure to the financial depression.

A woman borrowed eggs of a neighbor when eggs were at 24 cents a dozen. She returned the eggs, the same number, when the price had fallen to 12 cents. The question is, has she paid her neighborly debt? This problem is said to be vexing a Kansas town, and the settlement of it involves a great principle. Shall the borrower of a cup of molasses, a tablespoonful of butter, a hod of coal, return the loan in kind and quantity, or figure the equivalent in the market price? The satisfactory answer is that repayment should be made before the market has time to shift. But the controversy will not arise if there is no borrowing.

The first woman to practice law in this country was Margaret Brent, Lord Baltimore, then governor of Maryland, asked the legislature that she be appointed executor of her relatives' estate. One of the learned members said that it were better that the estate be lost than a woman appear to make an argument before them. Margaret Brent, however, won her case. A few years after the civil war, when Mrs. Carrie B. Kilgore applied for admission to the law department of the University of Pennsylvania, she was told by the then dean that "when niggers and women are admitted to the law school he would resign."

LAPSES OF GREAT MINDS.

Details Frequently Known to Baffle the Man of Genius.

To illustrate the kind of lapse of reasoning power from which great inventors are known to suffer, like that under influence of which Sir Isaac Newton cut one hole in a wall to let a cat pass through and then a small hole for the kitten, an old story in the life of Morse will answer well. Long before he invented the telegraph Morse was known to the officers of the patent office as a persistent applicant for patents. When his great invention of "distance writing" was about completed he wanted the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to try it.

To get rid of him the president of the road turned him over to a subordinate. This official was struck with the beauty of the invention and became so interested in it that he sat up half the night discussing it with the inventor. At length Morse confessed there was only one thing which baffled him. "As long as the railroad runs," he said, "where poles may be erected it will be easy sailing, but when we come to the big bridges what is to be done then? We can't erect poles across the stream, and without them the wire would sag and perhaps break from its own weight. I confess I don't know what to do. Can you suggest a way out of the difficulty?"

"Why don't you fasten the wires to the bridge?" asked his companion without a moment's hesitation. For a moment Morse gazed at him with open mouth, and then exclaimed: "Why not, indeed? Why, I never thought of that. It's the very way."

Clear Watches with Bread.

Perhaps the most novel use to which bread is put may be seen in the great watch factories at Elgin, Ill., where more than 40 loaves of fresh bread are required each day. Superintendent George E. Hunter of the watch factory is quoted as saying: "From the earliest time in the history of watchmaking it has been the custom of watchmakers to reduce fresh bread to the form of dough. This is done by steaming and kneading. They then use this dough for removing off and chips that naturally adhere in course of manufacture to pieces as small as the parts of a watch. There are many parts of a watch, by the way, that are so small as to be barely visible to the naked eye. The oil is absorbed by this dough and the chips stick to it, and there is no other known substance which can be used as a wiper without leaving some of its particles attached to the thing wiped. This accounts for the continued use of bread dough in the watch making industry."—American Food Journal.

New Yorkers Pay Rent.

Fewer New Yorkers own their own homes than the residents of any other city in the world. The reason is a simple one; the land is so valuable that none but the very wealthy can afford its purchase. Of the 391,687 families living on Manhattan Island only 16,316 hold title to the houses they occupy—if you will bring that little pad and pencil into play again you will learn that 94 out of every 100 families make monthly payments to a landlord. When these families move, as they are constantly doing, it seems only necessary to take the family photographs from the mantel—so completely has their method of life been systematized. As for the landlords, they are mightier in wealth and tenants than any feudal lords of old—as forsooth the Astors, whose immense multitude of dwellings house a greater number of people than are contained in a city of the size of Hartford, Conn.; Seattle, Wash.; or Nashville, Tenn.—The "Giant City" New York," in National Magazine.

A Business That Pays.

Women are, as a rule, most successful in decorative work, and it is a matter for astonishment that comparatively few have so far gone in for this branch of money making. There are numbers of girls with powers of discrimination who might pick up curios and antiques at reasonable prices, though, of course, even in the depths of the country, the supply has been steadily declining for years.

Not alone that, but cottage owners of old china and oak have become more wary, and articles of what Mrs. Malaprop termed "bigotry and virtue" are not to be bought up for a mere song.

Still, there is a good field for the woman collector. In furnishing and decorative work feminine ideas are hardly to be surpassed, and many a "house beautiful" owes its beauty to the artistic faculty of a woman's life.

Planted Birds.

Out in California small Tommy held his first ostrich farm. The word "farm" puzzled him for a while until he chanced to see some of the huge birds with their heads deep in the sand.

"Oh, auntie!" he exclaimed, suddenly. "Now I know why they call them ostrich farms."

"Why, Tommy?" asked his aunt.

"Because they plant them in the ground. There's a lot of planted birds now."

Unaccounted For.

"You can't get something for nothing," remarked the aphorist. "And yet," answered the man who had bad dreams, "I am sure all those purple dragons and pink rhinoceroses I got out of that Welsh rabbit were never put into it."

A MATTER OF COMPELSION.

No Soup, No Dinner, the Rule Laid Down by Barney.

Six years ago, when the king visited Dublin, some amusing incidents were recorded due to the grotesqueness of some hotel waiters apparently just fresh from rural life.

One hotelkeeper told such a newly imported "servant" that he must always serve every one with soup at dinner and be quite certain that he had it.

Therupon ensued the following scene between a visitor and the new waiter:

"Soup, sir?" said Barney.

"No soup for me," said the visitor.

"But you must have it," said Barney.

"It's the rules of the house."

"Hang the house!" exclaimed the visitor, highly exasperated. "When I don't want soup I won't eat it. Get along with you!"

"Well," said Barney, with solemnity,

"all I can say is just this—it's the rules of the house and soora a drop else ye'll get till ye finish the soup!"

—London Telegraph.

Innovation in Politics.

The recent municipal elections in Paris were remarkable not only for the candidature of M. Laloe, who was soundly beaten, but for the first recorded candidature of a domestic servant. The liveried class is supposed to take on the political color of its surroundings and to be ultra-conservative as a rule, but this candidate stood as a republican socialist, and he is said to have been strongly supported by his kind.

In the latest discovery—Defiance Starch—all injurious chemicals are omitted, while the addition of another ingredient, invented by us, gives to the starch a strength and smoothness never approached by other brands.

Thought It Was a Burglar.

"You are a coward!" said Mrs. Stubb, firmly.

"Why do you say that, Maria?"

"I have kept and used your Hunt's Lightning Oil for the last ten years in my family. It is the only kind to have and the best of all."

"Well—er—Maria, mice don't wear shoe leather."

Best of All.
